COUNCIL TAKES SUMMER RECESS

Both Boards Adjourn to Meet Again Friday, Sept., 1st.

KAUFMANN IS ELECTED

Average Volume of Miscellaneous Business Disposed of During Session Last Night

In order to determine whether Fire Chief Gronau or the fire committee of the city council has control of the fire apparatus of the city when such is not on the scene of a fire, President Smith of the lower branch of council, last night introduced a resolution that the fire and general laws committee of council look into the matter and this was referred to a committee composed of general laws, fire, the mayor, and the chief of the fire department.

This was brought about when Councilman Desmond, chairman of the fire committee, told council that owing to the illness of a horse belonging to the Reliance Fire Engine Company, resulting in that engine being out of commission as a result he had directed the new chemical engine, which has been quartered at the Relief Fire house, to be sent to the Reliance house. Fire Chief Gronau said he had directed it be sent back whence it came and he then directed it be returned to the Reliance house. The controversy was settled today when a horse was secured for the Reliance Compay to take the place of the sick horse and the chemical engine returned to the Relief house.

On behalf of the fire committee Councilman Desmond asked for an appropriation of $350 for the purchase of a horse for the Reliance Company, because of the serious illness of one of that company's horses, He said he would like early action on the resolution. The Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, Mr. Desmond said that kindly loaned the fire committee a horse during the illness of the company's horse, but it had to be returned a few days ago.

After some little debate the resolution making the appropriation was adopted.

The flipping of a 5-cent piece determined whether or not council would adjourn for the summer.

The coin came up heads and council adjourned until September.

It happened in this way: The board of alderman adopted a resolution to adjourn until September,; common council, when President Smith introduced a resolution to that effect, by a vote of five to five, defeated the resolution. Those for adjourning were Messrs. Smith, Marbury, H. R. Burke, C. S. Taylor Burke and Wattles, and those against it were Messrs. Desmond Bales, Lawler, Ballenger and Bendheim.

After killing the proposition to adjourn until September the resolution of the aldermen for adjournment was brought in and the vote was the same and then a conference committee was suggested.

President Smith named on the committee Messrs. C. S. Taylor Burke and Charles Bendheim and President Field, of the aldermen, named Alderman Wilkins and Ballanger.

The committee did not seem to be able to reach an agreement and the weather was hot and the councilmen quickly decided on the flipping of a coin to determine whether or not council would adjourn until September. The coin was flipped by Councilman Taylor Burke and came up heads and council adjourned.

A communication was received rrom the chairman of the committee on school houses and furniture, T. Calvert Perry, of the school board, setting forth the need of additional class rooms and that a new buiding for school purposes would be most acceptable together with a laboratory and an armory for the cadet corps, etc. The communication was referred to the committee on finance and schools.

Mayor Fisher sent a letter from M. D. Hart, chief clerk of the bureau of game and inland fisheries re. arding the appointment of a game warden. It was referred to the committee on general laws.

A committee of members of the Cameron Club sent a communication asking for an appropriation of $400 for the school nurse. It was referred to the committee on finance and schools as was also a communication from a committee of the Children's Plagrounds Association for an appropriation of $100.

A resolution appropriating $260 for laying a four foot cement sidewalk on the north side of King street near railroad bridge at union station, the property owners to pay two-thirds of the cost, was referred to the committee on streets and general laws.

Permission was ranted Roland Williams to make alterations to roof of house 309 south Columbus street.

Jerome Kaufman was elected a member of council from the second ward to fill the vacancy caused by the death of R. D. Brumback. Mr. Kaufman was nominated by Councilman Wattles.

Board of Aldermen.

No new business was presented in the Board of Aldermen. The board concurred in the action of the Common Council in appropriating $2,800 for the construction of a sewer on West Duke street, and expending $3,600 in repairing Armory Hall, also in relieving the company of sundry financial obligations. These measures had been adopted by the lower board at the last meeting, but were laid over by the Aldermen, according to law.

After the Aldermen had concurred in the action of the Common Council upon all papers sent in, Mr. Wilkins introduced a resolution providing that when Council adjourned it be to meet again on September 1st. This was adopted by a unanimous vote, but the Common Council refused to concur and asked for a committee of conference. Messrs. Ballenger and Wilkins were appointed on the part of this board to confer with Messrs. Bendheim and C. S. Taylor Burke of the common council. They retired and subsequently reported that they committee had agreed to recommend that the Common Council concur in the action of the Aldermen.

All business having been disposed of, Mr Ballenger moved that a vote of thanks be extended to President Henry K. Field for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided over the Aldermen during the session. The motion was adopted by a rising vote.

Mr. Field acknowledged the action of the board in a short but appropriate response.

Mr. Wilkins added his affirmation to the words expressed by Mr. Ballenger in making the motion.

The board then adjourned.

IN MEMORIAM

HOHENSTEIN—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother JUSTINA HOHENSTEIN, who left us one year ago today, July 12, 1915.

"Over our hearts in the year that has flown,
No love like yours, mother, ever has shone;
No other worship abides and endures,
Faithful, unselfish, and patient like yours;
Yet with strong yearnings and passionate pain,
Long we tonight for your presence again.
"Whose love can equal the love of another?
Whose devotion so loyal and true?
Who suffers so much with such joy for another?
Who works with such pleasure as mother for you?
"You will never know your mother's care until she is not around,
And never know her value until she is under ground.
Always to cheer her and keep her from being in need;
Remember that her reared you as the earth did the seed;
You may learn to love some one that is fond and true,
But you never can love as your mother loved you.
"We miss your kind and loving hand,
Your fond and earnest care;
Our home is dark without you, mother,
We miss you everywhere."

FIGHT AGAINST THE CHANCELLOR

Overthrow of Von Bethmann-Hollweg Predicted In Berlin

BITTER AGAINST U. S.

Opinion of America Concerning Submarine Warfare Will, it is Said, Be Ignored

Berlin, July 12—The overthrow of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, champion of a conciliatory policy toward the United States, and the unloosing of German submarines within three months, was predicted by von Tirpitz supporters here today unless President Wilson acts against the British blockade.

Members of the conservative party and those favoring annexation of territory conquered by Germany joined in the forecast. They said the opinion of America will be disregarded.

A private source, close to the foreign office, made this statement regarding the attempt to unseat Bethmann-Hollweg at a time when the war is approaching a crisis:

"Unless America does something against England within the next three months, there will be a bitter fight against the chancellor. One cannot tell whether he will be able to hold his own against such opposition. The future of German-American relations depends upon America."

Despite this political drive against the man who stood out against a break with the United States in the Lusitania crisis, Americans here believe Bethmann-Hollweg will again emerge triumphant. They feel certain that if the chancellor appeales to the public for a decision he would be supported.

The fight to oust the chancellor has now grown to such proportions that it overshadows in interest the allied offensive.

The attacks on the chancellor have gradually grown bolder since the appearance of Prince von Buelow's book "Deutsche Politik," because this book is believed to be the opening of Buelow's campaign to oust the chancellor and step back into the position he occupied until succeeded by Bethmann-Hollweg in 1909.

The movement has grown more forceful since the German answer to President Wilson's ultimatum was sent. The conservatives accepted the German note as containing a conditional clause and they have been waiting to see what steps the United States would take against England.

A national Liberal member of the Reichstag, who formerly was a supporter of von Tirpitz and the von Tirpitz submarine policies, said that that the opposition to America is not dead.

"Who is going to be your next President—Wilson or Hughes?" he asked, and then, without waiting for an answer, continued:

"If it is Hughes he can be no worse than Wilson. The worst he can do is to declare war on Germany and certainly that would be preferable to the present American neutrality."

WHAT'S INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Poliomyelitis is the technical name for the epidemic that is sweeping New York and menacing the rest of the nation.

All that is known of the way the disease is spread is that there is a virus present in the membrane of the nose which is spread by nasal discharges. Flies and dust may carry it.

It affects the gray matter at the base of the brain, and even if the child recovers, he or she is usually paralyzed for life.

Though commonest among babies adults are often victims, and persons of sixty and seventy are known to have died of the disease.

CZAR'S GREAT OFFENSIVE

Claims to Have Taken 5,620 Officers and 266,000 Men

ROLL UP AUSTRIANS

German "Steel Division" Meets 'Iron Division' of Russians and is Thrown Back

Petrograd, July 12—The approximate total of prisoners taken by the Russians during General Brusiloff's operations up to July 10 amounts to 5,620 Officers and 266,000 men, the War Office announced yesterday. Guns to the number of 312 and 866 machine guns have been captured.

A dispatch to the Russky Slovo from Southwestern Headquarters says:

"When news of the rolling up of the Austrian Fourth army and the forcing of the defenses of Lutsk was received in Berlin, the Emperor ordered the immediate dispatch thirther of the best available forces of the strategical reserves in France. The first troops sent to support the Austrians were the Tenth Imperial corps, including the Twentieth Brunswick, the co-called 'steel division,' concerning whose prowess numerous legends have larisen in Germany.

"The corps reached Vladimir-Volynski and was hurled next day against General Kalpdines' army. The collision occurred at Kiselin, half way between Vladimir-Volynski and Lutsk. The onslaught of the German steel division was met by a Russian division which in the earlier stages of the war won the name of the iron division. Advancing to the attack the Germans fired tens of thousands of shells in an uninterrupted cannonade for four days and nights; then charged followed charge and one after another broke. Russian iron was proof against German steel.

"During a short lull on the evening of the second day the Germans displayed signboards above their trenches, bearing the inscription:

"'Your Russian iron is no worse than the German steel, but all the same we shall smash you.'

"The Russians retorted: 'Come on, and try.'

"The Brunswicks resumed their charges throughout the day and night, but next morning the Russians suddenly delivered a smashing counter attack at an unexpected point and overthrew two battalions, capturing a number of cannon and machine guns.

"After the forty second attack the remnants of the steel division were withdrawn, and are now at Vladimir-Volynski, awaiting reorganization. The corps in four days' fighting lost three quarters of its officers and half of its men. The Russian losses also were heavy."

Berne, Switzerland, July 12— Nearly 100 military trains, conveying some 60,000 troops passed through Temesvar, Hungary, in the past few days, transporting landstrum, used in the occupation of Serbia and Montenegro, to Transylvania, to oppose the Russian advance. It also is reported that German officers commanding Bulgarian troops have been recalled.

Freed from a chain that bound her like a dog, 9-year-old Lena De quinne of Orange, N. J. is playing happily with other children at the parental home, while her father is waiting prosecution on a charge of assault and battery on a minor. One cheek of the little girle is lacerated and inflamed. Her wounds, it is said, were caused by human teeth. Dequinne's excuse for chaining his daughter is that, in spite of his prohibition, she played with the other children on the railroad tracks. The little child was found crouched on the back steps. Round her neck was a dog collar fastened by a padlock. Attached to the collar was a chain, the other end of which was firmly secured to the rear wall of the house.

VIRGINIA NEWS

George Cheetham, colored, of Norfolk, about 14 years old, was run over and killed Monday afternoon by a Norfolk and Western freight train he had attempted to board.

Rev. Dr. George W. McDaniel, pastor of First Baptist Church in Richmond will go to the border with the soldiers as a regular chaplain of the United States army and will not accept the offer tendered by his church to continue his salary during his stay there, if his application for that post is accepted.

Richmond once more is settling down to calm and its people are passing the Sabbaths much as they have been in the habit of doing for some years. Recent decisions in the Hustings and Police Courts make it evident that practically all Sunday activities will be continued as heretofore with the possible exception of the sale of soda water or tobacco by Gentile merchants, other than Seventh Day Adventists.

If a man has a right to sell gasoline Sundays inside of a house, he may sell it outside. So decided Police Justice Crutchfield in Richmond yesterday in the case of O. D. Dennis, of the Dennis Auto Supply Company, charged with dispensing this fluid last Sunday to customers from his street supply station on Broad street. That gasoline might be sold Sundays in garages was decided by a jury in Hustings court several days ago. Justice Crutchfield also decided that a man may sell bread on Sundays.

Moves to secure the removal from office of several police magistrates in Virginia are in contemplation by the State Department of Labor, The department will act under the new ouster law, which provides means for the removal from office of officials "who shall knowingly or willfully neglect to perform any duty enjoined upon such officer by any law of the state of Virginia." It is claimed that in despite of the activities of agents of the department, two of whom are now in this section of the state, it is found almost impossible to enfore the state labor laws because of the unwillingness and even refusal of some police justices and magistrates to convict even upon the most indisputable testimony. In some cases, it is contended, even where the defendant pleads guilty, the magistrates refuse to impose the penalty prescribed by law.

GERMANY'S WAR AIMS

Three Main Clauses in a Secret Manifesto Made Public

Paris, July 12—Retention of Belgian, French and Russian territory were the three main clauses in a secret manifesto of Germany's war aims addressed to the government in Berlin in May, according to information received in Paris today. The secret manifesto, which was signed by ninety leading deputies, professors, business and financial men, contains the following clauses:

German protectorate for Belgium.

Retention of the Briey Basin in France, to increase German's mineral supplies.

Incorporation of the Baltic provinces and Volhynia.

Possession of ports facing the British coast.

Cession of a huge African colony to Germany.

STATUS OF DEUTSCHLAND

British Naval Vessels Will Treat Boat as a Warship

Washington, July 12—British naval vessels will fire upon the German super-submarine liner Deutschland "at sight." It will be treated as a warship, regardless of any ruling the United States government may make.

If the Deutschland is destroyed by a British warship, the State Department will make no inquiries.

These facts were made plain at the British Embassy and at the State Department yesterday.

The British and French Embassies protested to the State Department against this government's action in permitting the Deuschland to enter an American port. They protested also against permitting the Deutschland to take on provisions. They declared to the State Department that the Deutschland is a warship and therefore is entitled to none of the rights enjoyed by a peaceable merchantman.

BRITISH TAKE MORE TRENCHES

Extend Line Eight Miles and Capture 7,500 Prisoners

HAND-TO-HAND FIGHTS

Paris, However, Admits Teutons Have Gained a Foothold in the Verdun Sector

London, July 12—The capture of the German's first system of defense on a front of 14,000 yards (nearly eight miles), after 10 days and nights of continuous fighting, is announced in the official report from British headquarters in France. The number of prisoners taken exceed 7,500. The British recaptured nearly the whole of the Trones Wood, the War Office announces. All but the northern most end of the wood is again in British hands.

After the assault of Monday night the British remain in possession of Contalmaison, holding it against German counter attacks and furious shell fire. Fighting continued through the night from Ovillers and La Boisselle to Trones Wood. The British, bombing their way forward, gained considerably in Mametz Wood and took all except the point of the fiercely disputed pear-shaped Trones Wood, clearing the way with each step toward the German second line on the ridges beyond.

The infantry was in such close quarters in the woods that the guns on neither side were firing at the first line, for fear of hitting their own men. Overhead shells were screaming past into the reserves to keep assistance from those in the front positions.

Paris, July 12—While relative calm prevailed on both sides of the Somme according to the official communication issued by the French War Office last night, heavy fighting continued on the right bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun section, German forces succeeding in gaining a footing in the Dumloup battery and in some sections of the French line in the Fumin Wood.

Berlin, July 12—Repeated attacks by the French and British troops on the Somme front have failed to win the German positions against which they were directed, says the War office announcement.

CALLS ON BULGARIA

Russian a nd Italian Successes Alarm Kaiser William

Rome, July 12—Kaiser Wilhelm and Emperor Francis Joseph have sent an urgent request to Czar Ferdinand that he dispatch Bulgarian troops to the Galician and Trentino fronts to help check the Russian and Italian offensives. This information was received from Geneva today.

A delegation of Austro-German military and diplomatic officials arrived at Sofia Sunday, carrying the request.

They pointed out to the Bulgarian ruler that continued successes for the Russians and Italians would bring Roumania into the war and that Bulgaria would then be squeezed between the Roumanian army on the north and the allied forces in Greece and crushed.

Czar Ferdinand replied that the withdrawal of Bulgarian troops for service in Galicia or on the Italian front would invite an immediate attack by the allies from Saloniki. He promised, however to submit the appeal to the Bulgarian general staff.

The steady advance of the Russians through southeastern Galicia has forced the Austrian divisions from the Trentino front. These have been replaced by Croats and Poles.

The Austrian losses on the successful offensive against the Trentino front, and in the Italian counter offensive have totaled 150,000 it is estimated here.

Te Italians already have won back nearly all the territory occupied by the Austrians in their drive though the concentration of 2,000 Austrian guns of heavy caliber has impeded their advance.

HENRY FAIRFAX DEAD

Former Alexandrian Succumbs in Leesburg After Operation for Appendicitis

Henry Fairfax chairman of the committee on finance and taxation in the Constitutional Convention of 1901 charter member of the State Corporation Commission and president of the Virginia State Fair Association died at the Leesburg Hospital about 10 o'clock last night. He was stricken with appendicitis several days ago, and an emergency operation was performed by Drs. George Ben Johnson and Murat Willis of Richmond. He had been in a critical condition all day yesterday, and his death last night was not unexpected.

Mr. Fairfax was sixty-six years of age, and was one of the best known men in public life in Virginia. Though of a retiring disposition, seldom seeking public office, he had served his district in the State Senate and was elected to the Constitutional Convention, where he readily came to the front as one of the leaders in matters of taxation and finance. Because of his record in that body, he was appointed by Governor Montague one of the charter members of the State Corporation Commission, serving with Governor Henry C. Stuart and Judge Beverly T. Crump for several years. He resigned from the commission and was succeeded by Colonel Joseph E. Willard, now ambassador to Spain.

Mr. Fairfax succeeded Governor Stuart as president of the Virginia State Fair Association.

Henry Fairfax was born in Alexandria, Va., on May 4, 1850. His father was Colonel John W. Fairfax, a farmer of Loudoun County, and his mother was Mary Jane Rodgers, daughter of Colonel Hamilton Rogers.

GERMANY AND THE UNITED STATES

That the feeling in Germany toward the United States is very bitter and that he has little doubt that Germany will seize the first opportunity to strike a blow at the United States is the word brought back to this country from Germany by Dr. Stewart Irwin, of the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Dr. Irwin says he was very favorably disposed toward the Germans when he went over five months ago—in fact, he was decidedly pro-German—but now he is just as decidedly pro-Ally. He is extremely bitter towards the Germans and their methods of conducting the prison camps and their treatment of the prisoners.

"The feeling in Germany is very bitter towards America," said Dr. Irwin, "more bitter than it is toward England even. The Germans, and especially the German newspapers lay the blame for all their misfortunes on the United States because it is supplying the Allies with munitions of war and because of its protests against the sinking of peaceful merchant ships without warning by German submarines."

Dr. Irwin believes we will yet have war with Germany as a result of the feeling of bitterness against us being carefully nurtured because of our submarine protests and because we are supplying the Allies with munitions of war.

Germany is, of course, piqued at all nations which refused to espouse her cause at the beginning of this unnecessary war. But the present generation need lose no sleep over forecasts similar to the above. It will require many years for the Fatherland to restore conditions existing two years ago, or, in other words to be in a position to cross swords with any nation. Germany furnished Russia with ammunition with which to fight Japan and Spain likewise when that country was at war with the United States. The Kaiser, if defeated, must blame himself, not the United States or any other nautral country. He, alone, is responsible for his present anxious plight.

OPTIMISM AND FACTS

Captain Koenig, of the German submarine, Deutschland, in an interview in Baltimore tells us that "everybody is convinced of the full final victory of the German arms." He further said, "all facts go to prove that there is no doubt of this."

The Richmond Journal says playing the waiting game has paid in the big war in Europe. If the kaiser could have won his way to Paris, then back again to the French channel ports before the allies had a chance to block his heady progress, the jig would have been up and the struggle over long ago. For this he invaded Belgium, for this he had egged on Austria, believing his forces were strong enough, his munitions of war ample enough to overcome all opposition. And so it seemed until the battle of the Marne, until the line held at Ypres. Russia was driven back, because of her lack of supplies, but her army was saved, and now look at its terrible menace to the central powers in Volhynia, in Galicia! Meanwhile, by blocking the headlong rush of the German army Great Britain had opportunity to call upon her marvelous resources, to turn hard cash into munitions of war, to train up for the fighting line the wonderful army that the genius of Kitchener had gathered before he was effaced. It is a remarkable achievement that England can show! Four thousand government controlled firms are now producing munitions. Ninety arsenals are being built or adapted. The country's weekly output of cartridges alone is greater by millions than the annual output before the war. A certain type of machine gun not known in Great Britain prior to 1915 is now produced by the hundred weekly. It is promised by an undersecretary for the munitions bureau that if the Germans cannot be driven home otherwise, "our army shall have such a supply of guns that their limbers shall touch each other in a continuous line from the Somme to the sea." This is not braggadocio, it is susceptible of accomplishment. For three months has the crown prince tried to take Verdun without definite results. The French have done wonders in repelling assaults and still maintain their ground. Russia, well armed, well equipped in every particular, is striking terror into the breast of the Austrians. Italy is worrying the German ally in another direction. The great offensive of the allies on the west is slowly but steadily pushing back the overstrained enemy. The kaiser's army is defeated and Berlin knows it. Within six months all Germany will be similarly convinced. Then look our for peace overtures.

WHAT SOME WIVES ENDURE.

Several years ago a disagreeable white man who resided in the extreme southern section of Alexandria became incensed one Sunday with his wife because she had prepared for dinner that good, old substantial Virginia dish—bacon and cabbage. He picked up the pot containing the preparation and threw it into the street. Her liege lord then procured an axe and made junk out of the stove.

A story was circulated in this city recently of the brutal act of a husband toward his wife, the details of which cannot be described. The patient weaker vassel made no complaint to the authorities, and the man who had obligated himself before God and man to love and cherish her escaped punishment. A preacher in this city many years ago said a long suffering house wife, who rose superior to her many troubles, was the best type of a disciple of the Man of Galilee. We believe he struck close to the mark.

A family bearing the name of Szamborski, reside in Baltimore. There are three of them—August, 49 years old; his wife, Kate, 2 years his junior, and an unmarried daughter, Helen, aged 20 years. Szamborski was recently arrested for disorderly conduct toward his family. He came home, kicked open the gate, and entered the house to find supper in the process of preparation. He wanted to eat immediately, and began arguing with his wife. The daughter remonstarted. Szamborski retorted by thrusting a print of soft butter in the face of his daughter, following it with a rapid fire of bread, water, crab cakes, mustered and bottle of vinegar.

The family coffee pot, filled with hot coffee, sailed straight for the head of his wife and after it a granite ware basin. Later followed a cuspidor aimed at his daughter.

Then the other principals in the battle, it is said, gave up. In the police court Szamborski was given six months in the House of Correction for breaking the peace of the home.

After he had gone Mrs. Beutinger, went to the dresser in her room, obtained the loaded revolver and slipped it under her pillow. Her husband returned and, seating himself in a chair beside her bed, began talking to her. Mrs. Beutinger declared that her husband grabbed her. Fearing bodily harm, she pulled the revolver from beneath her pillow and shot hm and before he could get out of range she fired four more shots. He fell dead on the floor beside the bed. Beutinger was a German-Swiss. Mrs. Beutinger was arrested.

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfils its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. BRING SMILES

New Post Toasties were perfected to overcome the defects of old-style corn flakes. And the hearty welcome they have received is ample proof that their superiority is recognized.

New Post Toasties have a. self-developed, inner-flavor— the rich flavor of choice Indian corn. Try a handful dry—they're mighty good that way, and the test will prove that, unlike common flakes, they do not depend on cream and sugar for their palatability.

New Post Toasties do not "chaff" in the package, and they don't mush down in cream like common "corn flakes." TheNew Post Toasties are identified by tiny bubbles on each flake—produced by the quick, intense heat of the new process of manufacture, which also develops their wonderful new flavor.

Have your grocer send a package for tomorrow's breakfast.

The prices of Maxwell Cars are again reduced—$595 for the Touring Car and $580 for the Roadster are the new prices—effective July 1st, 1916. Only the price is changed—not the car.

We emphasize this point because you might well suppose that a lowered price would necessitate some changes in the Maxwellg car—somethin taken from its complete equipment—or some lowering of Maxwell standards of quality.
